

The Convoy to Delta Sugar Company in August, 2019

A Convoy to Delta Sugar Company

Out of belief of Tanta University in its role of community service and environmental development and providing industrial institutions with scientific consultations, Tanta University organized an industrial environmental convoy on Sunday, August 25, 2019 under auspices of Prof. Magdi Sab', Tanta University President, and Prof. 'Emad 'Etman, University Vice President for Community Service and Environmental Development. The convoy included academic staff from faculties of Engineering and Science to visit Delta Sugar Company that is considered the biggest industrial company that produces sugar from beets in Egypt. Some industrial and environmental problems were discussed so that the University can find out scientific applied solutions for them to save millions of pounds for the company and similar ones in the field of sugar industry.
